POOR KITCHENS STAY OPEN.

Berlin Finds It Necessary to Feed Poverty-Stricken the Year Round. THE HAGUE, June 29 .- The municipality of Berlin has decided to keep open indefinitely the municipal poor kitchens, which in previous years were open only during the winter months, closing at the end of March. This year the closing has been postponed month after month under pressure of the needs of the poor people, and it has now been finally decided to keep the kitchens open for an indefinite period. The Vorwaerts says the kitchens are crowded as in midwinter, and that there are many complaints regarding the insufficiency of the rations served.

PETROGRAD, June 29 .- The bill pro viding for the permanent prohibition of vodka came up in the duma and the session was given over to a discussion of the effectiveness of the present regand the advisability of perpetuating the whether you go ahead or remain advantages of the increased prosperity evidenced throughout the country since the imperial decree at the beginning of the war.

Judging from the preliminary debate the representatives of the people will support the government and will signify their approval of the prohibition by abolishing forever the sale of vodks In fact, the general sentiment ex-pressed by the members of the duma was dissatisfaction with the laxity in the enforcement of the present regula-

Drunkenness, said a speaker, also had been increased by the inhibition of large quantities of furniture polish, eau de cologne and other substitutes for liquor, consumed by the peasant population.

The measure making the prohibition permanent will be put to a vote at an early date, and, it is expected, will be passed with little opposition.
